BYO ON SYDNEY HARBOUR

Here are some helpful hints to consider when your vessel is unlicensed and you can bring your own drinks

The standard of our vessels ensures that you have a relaxing time even when you BYO your drinks. To ensure this, we provide you with a corkage charge that covers your glassware and ice. We also provide staff (at an additional charge) that are fully trained in the Responsible Service of Alcohol which is required by law when drinks are served.

DELIVERY:

Delivery of drinks are to be to the home berth of that vessel. This will be arranged by your cruise consultant at a time and date suitable for both parties. Ideally, the drinks should be delivered cold on the day.

Note: Most CBD wharves are alcohol free zones so BYO does not mean that your guests can bring a couple of bottles to the wharf.

REGARDING BEVERAGE: NO glass bottled beer is permitted aboard.
Glass bottled wine & champagne is permitted.

You are responsible for advising all guests that *all laws relating to alcohol consumption (RSA) remain in force even though your guests have brought their own drinks. Any decision made by the captain regarding intoxication will be made in the best interests of safety and the enjoyment of the remainder of the ships company. By law, the captain is responsible and his decision final.

You are responsible for removal of all unused drinks. We suggest you bring plastic boxes for this purpose because cardboard boxes in which drinks are usually supplied are not suitable when damp (from bottles and cans that have been immersed in ice).
